Index of Volume 10 (1989)

Number 1, January

Special Issue on

Continuous – Time, Fractional and Multiobjective Programming

S. SCHAIBLE : Fractional programming – some recent developments	1–14
F.A. LOOTSMA : Fuzzy performance evaluation of nonlinear optimization methods, with sensitivity analysis of the final scores	15–44
E. J. ANDERSON : Extreme points for continuous network programs with arc delays	45–52
E. CASTAGNOLI AND P. MAZZOLENI : About derivatives of some generalized concave functions	53–64
A. CAMBINI, L. MARTEIN AND S. SCHAIBLE : On maximizing a sum of ratios	65–79
D. WARD : Directional derivative calculus and optimality conditions in nonsmooth mathematical programming	81–96
M. SCHECHTER : An extension of the Charnes-Cooper method in linear fractional programming	97–104
L. MARTEIN : Stationary points and necessary conditions in vector extremum problems	105–128
M.A. HANSON : Continuous-time programming	129–140
A. CAMBINI AND L. MARTEIN : Some optimality conditions in vector optimization	141–151
C. SINGH : Continuous time multiobjective duality theory	153–164
S.B. SINHA, A. BISWAS AND M.P. BISWAL : Linear programming approach to solve geometric programming problem	165–176
E.A. SIDERI : A cutting plane algorithm for min-max fractional programming	177–192
C.R. BECTOR AND M.K. BECTOR : Fritz John sufficient optimality conditions and duality for a generalised min-max program	193–205

S.B. SINHA AND S.V.C. SASTRY : On development of an operational model for a community storage system: a case study for a developed region	207–223
E. CASTAGNOLI AND P. MAZZOLENI : Towards a unified type of concavity	225–240
S. CHANDRA AND I. HUSAIN : Symmetric dual continuous fractional programming	241–255
S.B. SINHA, K.A. RAO, B.K. MANGARAJ AND P.K. TRIPATHY: Fuzzy technique to agricultural planning	257–274
Book Reviews	275–280
Announcements

Number 2, May

T. HAMADA : A two-armed bandit problem with possibility of no information	281–302
M.M. ALI AND D. UMBACH : Estimation of quantities of symmetrically truncated logistic distribution using a few optimally selected order statistics	303–307
F. FABRIS : Stream ciphering techniques based on n -tuples juxtaposition sequences	309–335
A. THIONG LY : Deterministic algorithm for factorizing polynomials over extensions $GF(p^*)$ of $GF(p)$, p a small prime	337–344
S.G. TZAFESTAS AND A.T. KOSSMAS : Computer-aided modelling and identification of technological and economic systems	345–368
S. ANTONUCCI : Groups and graphs, I	369–375
G. RUBIN-THOMAS : Cyclic permutations of letters of words in languages over on alphabet	377–394
N.G. RUEDA : Generalized convexity in nonlinear programming	395–400
K. ANO : Some extensions of generalized secretary problem	401–421
Announcements

Number 3, September

S. TZAFESTAS AND G. STAVRAKAKIS : Model reference adaptive control of industrial robots with actuator dynamics	423–444
S.G. TZAFESTAS AND G.P. FRANGAKIS : On microcomputer based simulation of linear multivariable systems	445–458
S.A. SYED : The apportionment of representation and the voting power	459–470
P.T. SYPSAS : Identifying patterns in multiple time series data	471–494
N. SAWERIS : The moment generating function of Pillai's criterion concerning three hypotheses under violations in the complex case	495–508
K.W. CHEN AND A.S. PAPADOPOULOS : Bayesian analysis of system reliability using the burr distribution	509–518
U. KUMAR : A one parameter entropy model for brand purchase behaviour	519–534
J-C. PANAYIOTOPOULOS : Using fifth generation tools for solving the clique number problem	535–555
M.A. ALI : On procedures frequently used in multiple regression analysis for dealing with missing values	557–555
R. KHORRAMSHAHGOL, A.A. OKORUWA AND H. AZANI : Capital budgeting in a multiple objective environment	567–577
P. DILEEPAN AND T. SEN : Job tardiness in unequal parallel processor systems	579–590
Book Reviews	591–594
Index of Volume 10 (1989)	595–597
Announcements
