Index of Volume 15 (1994)

Number 1, January

R. N. KAUL, S. K. SUNEJA AND C. S. LALITHA : Generalized nonsmooth invexity	1-17
F. R. SPENA AND A. VACCA : A variational approach to the analysis of fluid distribution networks in steady state of flow	19-32
H. HOSSAIN AND MD. A. U. KHAN : A study of stochastic epidemic model with genetic susceptibility to infection	33-39
J. C. PANAYIOTOPOULOS AND E. PAPATHANASSIOU : The RAM-Real-Time problem in the case of large knowledge bases	41-48
T. SEN AND F. M. E. RAISZADEH : Minimizing a quadratic function of job lateness in the single machine system	49-55
M. A. ALI : Bias estimation in spline regression	57-64
M. KODAMA AND J. FUKUTA : On a multichannel queueing system with semi-ordered entry	65-88
M. H. AL-TOWAIQ AND B. M. AL-EIDEH : Quasi stationary distribution in absorbing Markov Chais with r absorbing states	89-95
M. ELIA AND G. TARICCO : On a class of reversible binary cyclic codes and their algebraic decoding	97-115
M. F. AL-SALEH : Two Stage estimation of the variance of a normal population	117-125
G. M. LEE : Nonsmooth invexity in multiobjective programming	127-136
S. K. SUNEJA AND S. GUPTA : Duality in nonlinear programming involving semilocally B-vex and related functions	137-151
G. K. ADIL AND A. GILL : An efficient formulation for an equipment replacement problem	153-158
Announcements	159-161

Number 2, May

Obituary	163–164
S. A. EL-ZAHABY : Optimal Control of a system governed by variational inequalities for elastic system with application to a signorini's problem	165–169
S. A. EL-ZAHABY : Necessary conditions for control problems governed by elliptic variational inequalities with an infinite number of variables	171–178
T. M. SOMERS AND Y. P. GUPTA : Assessing the effect of change in advertising strategy through use of intervention methods : a case study	179–193
A. M. PICCIRILLO : On a second order non-linear evolutive equation related to a class of dynamical contact problems	195–212
K. ALTINKEMER AND Z. YU : Two Matching based algorithm for tree network design	213–226
A. GALLO : The cauchy problem for one class of non-linear second order evolution equations	227–253
T. NAKAI : A dynamical management model for accepting reservations	255–265
T. SEN AND B. W. SCOTT : A branch-and-bound approach to solve a bicriterion scheduling problem involving squared flowtime and maximum tardiness	267–277
P. PERONI : Fuzzy land cover classification of remote sensing information	279–283
D. R. AYLAWADI, S. P. AGGARWAL AND R. MITTAL : A note on Naddor's purchasing model with price increase anticipated	285–289
Book Reviews	291–292
Announcements	293–295

Number 3, September

N. S. KAMBO : Steady-state distributions in computable form for the bulk-arrival single-server queue	297–310
C. LIN, T. W. CHIEN, L. F. HSU AND G. SPHICAS : Design of inspection policy in an assembly oriented flexible manufacturing system	311–336
N. ALEXANDRIS, E. FOUNDAS AND M. GEORCIACODIS : Characteristic number of permutations	337–343
V. VAJNOVSZKI AND J. PALLO : Generating binary trees in A-order from codewords defined on a four-letter alphabet	345–357
C. DE FRANCESCO AND B. VISCOLANI : Optimal lead times and service rates in a multiservice system with bounded resources	359–371
Q. AL-HASSAN : On the solution of nonlinear programming problems via continuation using special LU factorization	373–386
B. M. AL-EIDEH : A central limit theorem for absorbing Markov Chains with r absorbing states	387–392
L. WEN : The comparison between arbitrary information sources and memoryless information sources and its limit properties	393–404
P. Q. PAN : A variant of the dual pivoting rule in linear programming	405–413
MD. SHAMSUDDIN : Diagonal irregular fractions of 3^n factorials	415–422
M. S. RAHMAN AND R. P. GUPTA : Characterization of distribution by moment relations	423–430
M. M. AZZAM : Maximum likelihood estimates using different experimental schemes	431–442
Announcements	443–444
Index of Volume 15 (1994)	445–447
